The Millersburg fire department has been reinforced by the addition of a splendid hand engine—Mayor Yerkes and the Paris City Council having courteously loaned to the town of Millersburg their engine "Rescue."

This engine is in good shape and will throw as much water as a steamer, having been disused by a steamer in the interest of quick service only. The "Rescue" was brought down Friday, and as soon as a few hundred feet of hose is added to the local department the town can boast of a department equal to any town of its class. Additional cisterns are also talked of.
